

Delivering content online.

The ability to deliver content online is hugely beneficial and students love the opportunity to see each other when other avenues are closed to them. We are hoping that this does not happen, but here are some resources you might like to consider, just in case!

There are many online learning platforms, and the choice is yours to make – many teachers have had success with Zoom, Google Meets, Skype, Microsoft Teams, among others. This is one guide from Zoom about securing your online lessons:

<https://zoom.us/docs/doc/Securing%20Your%20Zoom%20Meetings.pdf>

Let us know what is working for you; the Board is not recommending any one platform over another.

Let us know if you would be interested in learning more about delivering content online;

- Setting up
- Security
- Child Safeguarding policy for online/ blended learning
- Adapting Drama for the online classroom.
- Self-taping
- Examinations
- Film editing

Teaching Resources

For assistance adapting your curriculum to socially distanced learning methods and/or online:

[Drama Notebook
www.dramanotebook.com](http://www.dramanotebook.com)

[Theatrefolk - The Drama Teacher Resource Company
www.theatrefolk.com](http://www.theatrefolk.com)

<https://dramaresource.com/teaching-drama-online/>

<https://www.outoftheboxdrama.co.za/>

Let us know what is working for you, so that we can all support each other!